

Exploding frying pans

---

 devblogs.microsoft.com/oldnewthing/20040617-00

June 17, 2004

Raymond Chen

Last year there was a recall of exploding frying pans. For some reason I found this funny.

“The pans can explode or separate when preheated, used on high heat or used for frying,” the safety commission said in a statement.

It explodes when you fry something in it.

Apparently “frying stuff” was not in the test plan for the frying pans.

Raymond Chen

Follow

