

Bowling coming to Bellevue, and given the location, it's naturally upscale

 devblogs.microsoft.com/oldnewthing/20070808-01

August 8, 2007

Raymond Chen

The Lincoln Square mall in Bellevue will have a new tenant: An upscale bowling all[^]H[^]H[^]Hlounge. Expected to open before the Christmas holiday season, there will be two bars, full-service dining, lots of big plasma screens, all the stuff that makes bowling better. The lounge be positioned on the second floor, beneath Parlor Billiards, a business which by a fantastic coincidence has exactly the same business model as the bowling all[^]H[^]H[^]Hlounge, but with billiards instead of bowling. By Christmastime, the 23,900 square foot venue will be the site of strikes, splits, and, no doubt, lots of failed pick-up attempts.

Raymond Chen

Follow

