

Amusing message on a whiteboard in the hallway

 devblogs.microsoft.com/oldnewthing/20120327-00

March 27, 2012

Raymond Chen

It is common to see whiteboards mounted in hallways. Sometimes they have official purposes; other times they are just placed for the convenience of hallway conversations or impromptu meetings.

One of the hallways near my office has a very large whiteboard, completely blank, save for one note clearly written in the corner.

| DO NOT ERASE

Raymond Chen

Follow

