Lazarus rises: Warning over new HOPLIGHT malware linked with North Korea

computing.co.uk/ctg/news/3074007/lazarus-rises-warning-over-new-hoplight-malware-linked-with-north-korea

Dev Kundaliya   April 11, 2019

🔒 Become a Computing member

Image:
North Korea has sought to raise funds via organised crime since the 1970s

The new malware is thought to be the work of North Korean state-linked hacking group HIDDEN COBRA, aka Lazarus Group

The US Department of Homeland Security (DHS) and the FBI have issued a warning over renewed North Korean state hacking activity. They claim to have identified new malware, named HOPLIGHT, which they...

To continue reading this article...

Join Computing

- Unlimited access to real-time news, analysis and opinion from the technology industry
- Receive important and breaking news in our daily newsletter
- Be the first to hear about our events and awards programmes
- Join live member only interviews with IT leaders at the 'IT Lounge'; your chance to ask your burning tech questions and have them answered

- Access to the Computing Delta hub providing market intelligence and research
- Receive our members-only newsletter with exclusive opinion pieces from senior IT Leaders

Join now

Already a Computing member?

Login

Previous Article

Women paid more than men in senior IT roles

Next Article

Triton malware group found in second compromised facility

More on Hardware