Much has been said and much has been read about the recent SolarWinds Attack. Now it's time to evaluate what we've seen and heard. 'Join us for a lively conversation between Symantec's Director of Security Response Kevin Haley and SANS Analyst Jake Williams on June 1, 3:30 pm ET where we answer some of the questions that continue to linger:

- Is SolarWinds a new type of attack?
- Can we hope to detect these adversarial attacks with our existing detection tools?
- Are signatures dead when it comes to finding and understanding attacker tactics and techniques?
